

EAT LOCAL

All One Family Farm is Rob, Sonia, Lili and Rio Story. We are located in the fertile Chimacum Valley, about 20 minutes south of Port Townsend. Here we grow tomatoes, garlic, cabbage and squash. We partner with three familyrun farms in eastern Washington for our certified-organic fruit:

WHO GROWS YOUR FRUIT?

Tonnemaker Hill Farm—

Established in 1962 and now farmed by the third and fourth generations

Brownfield Family Orchard—

Washington's first certified-organic farm (1987) and co-founders of Washington Tilth

Sunny Slope Ranch—Certified organic for more than 20 years!

In 2009, All One Family Farm delivered almost 40,000 pounds of premium-grade, freshly harvested fruit to more than 400 families in four counties.

Join us this season!

All One Family Farm believes in supporting local agriculture and organizations. Each year we donate hundreds of pounds of fruit to local food banks.

We welcome fundraising partnerships! Contact us if you are interested.

HOW IT WORKS

It's easy.

Go to our website:

1 www.allonefamilyfarm.com

and join our fruit list. (We will never sell your email or send you spam!) Each week before we head out to the farms, we'll let you know which fruits are available.

2 Place your order online and let us know where you'd like to pick up. We will follow up with a delivery window.

3 When you come to pick up your fruit, you may pay with cash or a check.

If for any reason you are not satisfied with your fruit, All One Family Farm will cheerfully provide a replacement, credit or refund.
